Say "TAPSNAP™"

Say goodbye to those cramped old photo booths... and say hello to TapSnap™, the latest and greatest phototainment technology!

According to Wikipedia, the first photo booth appeared in 1925 on Broadway in New York City. For 25 cents, the booth took, developed and printed 8 photos, a process taking about ten minutes. In the first six months, the booth was used by 280,000 people. Photo booths are still popular entertainment, even though they have changed very little from their almost century old design. Some of them have gone digital, or added miniature props on sticks, but you're still stuck in that tiny booth waiting for your skinny strip of photos to pop out.

Havre de Grace residents, Eric & Dawn Metz, both government employees, were looking for a business they could call their own. After doing their research, they discovered TapSnap™. A brand new company out of Canada, TapSnap™ is on the cutting edge of sophisticated, portable phototainment systems. The best way to describe it is a giant ipad on a light portable frame. Eric and Dawn could immediately see the potential, and were one of the first few franchises in the world. There is certainly nothing like it in our area, and Eric and Dawn service a large territory, from Philadelphia to West Virginia. "We knew getting involved in something so innovative would require us to do a little education when it came to what TapSnap is all about," said Eric.

So what is TapSnap™ all about? The only thing it really shares in common with it's distant relative the photo booth... is that it takes pictures. Which is like saying "The pony express and e-mail both deliver correspondence." Forget the photo booth, TapSnap™ is the wave of the future, and this is why:
