

Looking for a gown as unique as you?
Go custom
and the sky's
the limit!

model Alex Hayden
makeup/hair Stacy Leigh
Charm City Makeup
photography
Amy Jones
amyjphoto.com

Vincent with model Elena Russo

Vincent Licari

Vincent Licari began his journey out of Fallston High School aspiring to become a fashion photographer. After showing his portfolio to local modeling agencies, he received suggestions to use professional models and clothing. Because of this, he turned to making interesting clothes to photograph. It was not until he saw the televised fashion event in Rome called "Donna Sotto le Stelle" that he committed to the transition to fashion design.

Vincent turned to his family to learn the basics of tailoring. Largely teaching himself, he experimented with textiles and embroidery. Along the way, he picked up additional hand techniques from other couturiers. He has since collaborated with international stylists and personal wardrobe consultants around the world.

Currently, Vincent is continuing his training in Paris and designing limited collections. For up to date info please visit www.facebook.com/vincentlicaricouture